DR. JOHN McLAUGHLIN LECTURES AT USD SEPTEMBER 25

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dr. John McLaughlin will speak Thursday, September 25 at the University of San Diego.

Dr. McLaughlin's talk, Richard Nixon -- What Happened? will be at 8 p.m. in Salomon Lecture Hall and is open to the public free of charge. McLaughlin, former White House speechwriter and defender of President Nixon, is now writing and lecturing on human power and its problems.

McLaughlin has had a varied career as author, teacher, broadcaster and counselor, as well as serving Presidents Nixon and Ford for 3 1/2 years as Deputy Special Assistant. His post included such duties as speechwriter, fact-finder, presidential spokesman and counselor on domestic matters and public opinion. He gained nationwide attention for his spirited defense of President Nixon for a time.

He was born in Providence, Rhode Island in 1927. He holds the Ph.D. from Columbia University, and two M.A. degrees in English and Philosophy from Boston College. Dr. McLaughlin holds other degrees in Philosophy and Theology, and has done advanced study at Stanford University.

McLaughlin's speech is presented by the USD Associated Students Speakers Bureau.
